Welcome to the Govroam Wiki.

If you have just registered (or authenticated via Google) then you'll need to contact the govroam administrators to give you the permissions to view this site fully: govroam@jisc.ac.uk Please include the email address which you logged in with.

This will serve as the primary source of documentation and information for site administrators.

It's broken up into two parts:

JISC Govroam Information - an area where JISC will make available all the information we have to share with you all. This will include various high level Technical, Policy and Administration documents. We will also do our best to include lower level configuration information. There's an FAQ and a tool to remotely test your installation.

Site Administrators Share - an area where the site administrators can view and, more importantly, edit. If you want to publish what you've been doing with wireless, networking and RADIUS for govroam that feel might be useful to others then put it here.

Notices

Fourth NRPS

This is of relevance to RFOs, individual sites and Visited Only sites (i.e. any site which has a RADIUS server communicating directly with Jisc's NRPS).

On 10th July at 9.00 an additional NRPS will go live. This is to improve resilience (two NRPS at each of our Data Centres).

RFOs and individual sites communicating directly with Jisc NRPS need to take action before, or on 10th July..

Visited Only sites need to take action after 10th July.

Please visit fourth_nrps

for more details, including what needs to be done next.

Reminders will be sent out before 10th July.
